“I am inevitable” -
Thanos
But nothing is inevitable.

Learning

When you are building your business, some situations may seem inescapable at times, but things can change in a snap and not all of that is going to be for the good, so be ready for it.

“Because before, you didn’t have me.”

-Carol Danvers

Fresh faces give fresh perspective.

Learning

Sometimes in your startup, you need a different perspective to a problem. Recruiting a team with diverse experience and skills always helps.

“Everything is unpredictable in the quantum realm.”

- Scott Lang

Small things make the difference.

Learning

When building your startup too, small things like the timing of your launch matter. Not everything may be in your control but these seemingly trivial details can have a major impact on the future of your startup.

“I’m the strongest Avenger. So, this responsibility falls upon me.”

- Thor

The best person may not be right for the job.

Learning

While building your business, you will come across many situations where you might think you are the right one to take on the tough tasks, but sometimes, you may not be the best bet.

“This is the fight of our lives. And we’re going to win. Whatever it takes.”

- Captain America

True grit is rewriting your story when you are being written off.

Learning

Battles are not won alone, but they don’t end until the last man falls. So, never shy away from putting your best punch forward. In the end, when it’s over and you look into the mirror, it will reflect in your result.

“Part of the journey is the end.”

- Tony Stark

Goal is to keep going on.

Learning

Building your startup is actually a never ending war. You need to give it all to make sure it reaches its true worth. It isn't about the destination but the journey. Sometimes, you just need to see the situation through rose-tinted glasses to keep going on.

An aerial night view of a city, likely New York City, showing a dense grid of buildings and a complex network of highways. The scene is illuminated by a mix of blue, purple, and orange lights, creating a vibrant, futuristic atmosphere. The text is overlaid on the upper portion of the image.

“This is gonna work” - Black Widow
“I know it is. Because I don’t know what
I am gonna do if it doesn’t”
- Captain America

Learning

For entrepreneurs, saving their own startup is almost like saving the universe, and they may face the challenge of taking it to the brink of extinction several times while building it.
